Director's Report

Enormous strides were made in 2009-10 towards securing the Museum's financial stability. Although $5 million was added to the endowment as a result of the capital campaign concluded three years ago, the trustees and staff realized that it would be absolutely essential to add an additional $15 million in order to defray the additional costs incurred through the construction of the Chase Family Building, which effectively doubled the size of the Museum, and achieve other priorities of the Long Range Plan. A feasibility study was completed two years ago and the Museum launched its Fund for American Art. Unfortunately, the current economic climate, during which the stock market has proven very volatile and unemployment has soared, is far from ideal. Nevertheless, in the last year the Museum received through gifts and bequests over $3 million and the Fund for American Art now includes over $4 million in recent donations.

The late Jay Bruemmer, who came to the Museum often and was a steadfast supporter, bequeathed the equivalent of over $3 million and Martin Gotowala left an estate worth $745,000. More and more, it is critical that we pursue planned gifts and to this end the Museum's Heritage Society has expanded to include over 70 donors. By leaving a planned gift, our patrons can make maximum use of certain tax credits and preferences. At a time when other museums are struggling to maintain an even budget, the New Britain Museum can be very proud that our expenses exactly equal our income and that our endowment has grown through the generosity of Jay Bruemmer, Martin Gotowala, and others.

Overall, we have also achieved success in attracting new audiences to the Museum. On June 30, we had 5,476 members from 335 zip codes. Although overall attendance declined from the previous year, we were fortunate to have as part of our overall attendance figures the 27,183 visitors who attended performances at TheaterWorks in downtown Hartford and also enjoyed visiting the Gallery of American Art which displayed five distinctly appealing exhibitions over the last calendar year.

Aggressive programming has been the key to the Museum's success. On any particular Saturday, hundreds of visitors take advantage of the free morning funded by the American Savings Foundation while in the afternoon visitors might take advantage of a film, guided tour, reception, or a lecture to name only a few of the possible events designed to entice the general public and our membership to the Museum. Most of these events relate directly to the changing exhibitions or the permanent collection. In all, over 20 distinctive shows were mounted in the McKernan, Davis, Cheney, and Low Galleries, as well as in the Stanley Works Center. A full listing of these exhibitions drawn from a wide variety of different periods and covering many diverse subjects is provided in this report.

My particular favorite exhibition was The Great American Watercolor, a survey of watercolors drawn from our permanent collection. For over 10 years, I have wanted to display some of the seldom-seen masterpieces acquired over the last century so that the general public would have an idea of the richness of our holdings.

Traditionally, we have been champions of American illustration and are fortunate to have mounted a retrospective of the illustrations of Wendell Minor, one of the nation's leading illustrators. The John Haberle exhibition provided us with an opportunity to place within the context of his career several key works in our collection. Guest Curator M. Stephen Miller organized one of the most beautiful and most educational surveys of Shaker ingenuity; many of these objects were drawn from his personal collection as well as from the major Shaker sites in New England. The Shaker exhibition represented a departure as the objects on display were furnishings and other decorative arts objects. To round out the series of offerings, we displayed over 160 photographs primarily by contemporary photographers from the collection of my brother Christopher S. Hyland.

During the year the Museum produced two outstanding catalogues. John Haberle: American Master of Illusion and Inspired Innovations: A Celebration of Shaker Ingenuity will add significantly to the scholarship of a neglected American artist and of the role of the Shakers and their influence on American culture. Both publications will be distributed nationally by the University Press of New England. Over the last several years, the Museum has published many other catalogues.

The exhibition that generated more enthusiasm on the part of young visitors and adults was Ruthie Davis Shoes: Couture, Futuristic Design. The NEW/NOW artists provided a jolt to our aesthetic sensibilities and fulfilled the mandate of NEW/NOW which is to tap in to the imaginations of emerging artists. Fay Ku, Sam Gibbons, Sandra Allen, Kwabena Slaughter, and Elana Herzog were chosen from the hundreds of applicants who send their materials annually to the Museum. The collections grew through gift and purchase and as usual we loaned a number of works to museums both in this country and abroad.

As always, I am most grateful to the nearly 400 volunteers who work as docents and in capacities too numerous to mention. We note with sadness the deaths of Alan Ettinger, Alberta Catlin, Martha Mainer, former trustee Harrold de Groff, Frances Stanley Stout, Cherry Howard, Charlotte Gleason, and Jay Bruemmer. Many of these individuals have been involved with the Museum for many decades. Mrs. Stout was the granddaughter of the Museum's founder and a generous donor to the capital campaign. Harrold de Groff served on many trustee committees and was an arbiter of good taste.

At the end of the year, Maura O'Shea, Deputy Director, resigned from the Museum. During her 10 years at the Museum, she tackled many formidable challenges. She was successful as curator of education and as a thoroughly professional art administrator, earning the respect of the Board, staff, and our many volunteers and members. It will be very difficult to fill her shoes.

Renowned photographer Thomas Barbèy poses by some of his pieces at the opening reception for the The Christopher Hyland Collection of Photography, By Way of These Eyes: The Sublime, Exotic and Familiar.

The Museum is fortunate to have a very highly organized and focused Board of Trustees. In 2009, Rhoda Chase, Coleman Levy, Dr. Timothy McLaughlin, and Michael Schweighoffer rotated off the Board and Dr. Peter Byeff, Halsey Cook, Dr. Martin Cooper, and Grant Jones were elected as new Board members. Already they have made a considerable difference to the institution. Similarly, John Barnes, Jonathan Baron, Rita Heimann, Michael Maglaras, Kevin McNamara, Mary Piazza, William Rees, Karen Ritzenhoff, and Marzena Silpe were appointed to the Council of Advisors, from which the Museum has consistently drawn its trustees. We are most grateful to all of the members, the corporate donors, and the foundations that have granted money to support specific projects. Well-run museums aspire to a healthy mix of fundraising income, earned revenue, donations, and endowment support, and the New Britain Museum is on target with healthy streams of income from each of these sources. This success is attributable directly to the thousands of individuals who annually commit their time and resources allowing us to fund our exhibitions and to pay for the maintenance of the Chase Family Building and the Landers House.

Warm regards,

Education and Public Programs

As always, the Museum organized a wide variety of public programs including lectures, gallery talks, programs for children and families, art classes as well as numerous adult and student tours and services for teachers.

These programs offer Museum visitors of all ages and backgrounds opportunities for lifelong learning in the arts central to the Museum's education mission. At the same time they employ a vast number of artists, educators, art historians and other professionals contributing to the cultural fabric of the region.

Highlights of Adult Programs included the Robert Lehman Lecture, which featured Christopher Hyland collector and guest curator of The Christopher Hyland Collection of Photography, By Way of These Eyes: The Sublime, Exotic and Familiar, the Catharine M. Rogers Lecture with Kevin Avery associate curator, Department of American Paintings and Sculpture, The Metropolitan Museum of Art in conjunction with the exhibition Hudson River Paintings from The Metropolitan Museum of Art and a symposium funded by the Connecticut Humanities Council, The Shakers and the World: The Past Meets the Present with presentations by Dr. Scott T. Swank, Dr. Glendyne Werglund, Christian Goodwillie and curator M. Stephen Miller.

Art Happy Hour and other Lecture Programs featured a variety of presenters offering interpretations of the exhibitions and collections including collector Rita K. Heimann; lecturer and NBMAA docent Patricia Hickox; NBMAA staff members Heather Whitehouse, and Morgan Fippinger; and artists: Ellen Carey, Bill Armstrong, Sam Gibbons, Graydon Parrish, and Wendell Minor. Other presenters included Saint Joseph College art history professor Dorothy Keller; artist Sandra Allen; curator Gertrude Grace Sill; historian William Hosley; artist Kwabena Slaughter; lecturer and NBMAA docent Fred Biamonte; lecturers Wanda Seldon, Jolie Rock Brown, Lynda Hunter-Williams, NBMAA docents Debby Tait and Teresa Gianzinetti; collector and NBMAA docent M. Stephen Miller; antique specialist John Keith Russell; lecturer John Kaestle; artist Dalton Ghetti; historians Jenny Rose Carey, Stephen J. Paterwic and Nancy Noble; poet Jonas Zdanys; author Gregory Ellis; filmmaker Michael Maglaras; and artists June Webster and Bob Noreika.

The monthly Music Series and First Fridays showcased local and international musical talent including Nancy Anderson & Friends, Horizon Blue, Isadora Pastragus, Eduardo Rocha Mariachi Band, AllaBreve Opera & Consort, Natasha Ulyanovsky, Monika Krajewska, Main Street Singers, Hartford Symphony Orchestra, Nzinga's Daughters, Teresa Wright, Brad Rickert, The Connecticut Trio, The Enfield Shaker Singers, The Worthington Trio, The Kelet Duo with Katalin Vizsmeg and Pi-Hsun Shih, Lummie Spann & Friends, Carol August, Bob Paskowitz, Brian Jenkins, Walter Gwardyak, Seizure Jazz, Carolyn Hartsfield & The Kent Hewitt Trio, Junior Krauss & The Shakes, Warren Byrd, Eight to the Bar, and Laid Back Jazz Quartet.

More than 4,500 children and adults participated in classes in drawing, painting, watercolor, sculpture, and music and storytelling programs throughout the year. Teaching artists included Virginia Anderson, Jim Wendell and Florence Minor read Pumpkin Heads! to a group of families during a special Family Day event in October.

Kaelynn McKinstry enjoys the company of one of Thomas Hart Benton's characters in The Arts of the South.

Brunelle, Loretta Eason, Margaret Freedman, Zbigniew Grzyb, Nina Goodale, Shelly O. Haas, Susan Hackett, Olivia Hanzel, Christine Ivers, Suzy Jorsey-Balay, Jonathan Keezing, Robin McCahill, Melissa Meredith, Jenny Walker, June Webster, and Heather Whitehouse. In January 2008, we received a two-year grant from the MetLife Foundation to fund the MetLife Artist-in-Residence program to invite accomplished contemporary artists to work with children, teachers and families.

In addition to the year-round programs we offer for students of all ages, visitors also enjoyed a variety of special Family and Community Days. These events included book readings and signings with artist Wendell Minor and our Community Quilt Project with Museum docent/artist Loretta Eason, which culminated in two quilts representing family, friends, and the NBMAA community.

The 2009/10 year saw a strong number of tours. Seventy-three active docents led 822 tours (representing more than 1,200 docent tour hours) for more than 10,800 school children and adults from more than 70 towns throughout the state. The 09/10 new docent class graduated 13 docents. In addition to the Museum's longstanding partnership with New Britain Public Schools, grant-funded partnerships with Bristol, East Hartford, East Windsor, Enfield, Manchester and South Windsor schools involved approximately 2,548 students and teachers in tours, workshops and teacher training programs serving more than 160 educators from around the state.

For the 20th year the Museum hosted, with support from Webster Bank, Art from the New Britain Public and Parochial Schools which featured artwork from 235 students in grades K-12 with more than 500 people attending the opening reception. Additional student art shows hosted at the NBMAA included 1st graders from East Farms Elementary School in Farmington and over 200 works from students in grades K-12 in the Berlin Public Schools.

Colleges and universities from around the state represented more than 1,200 students and teachers participating in education programs. Museum staff and docents trained University of Connecticut medical school students in the art of observation through the Museum's Medicine Art Elective.

FINANCE, DEVELOPMENT, and VISITOR SERVICES

According to the Museum's independent auditors, Whittlesey & Hadley, P.C., the Museum ended the year, June 30, 2010, with a very healthy Balance Sheet. Benefiting from a rebound in the stock market and several large gifts the Statement of Activities showed very positive results with revenue up and expenses down. Strong contributed income made up for slight decreases in earned revenue and conscientious belt tightening also contributed to the positive results.

Development: A corporate philosophy of "managed optimism" in a year that saw slower than expected economic recovery carried the Museum forward in Fiscal Year 2010. That strategy assured fresh, lively exhibitions, a plethora of programming (even new ones) and sustained marketing. The result was one of the most gratifying years in terms of support from and participation by our members, donors and funding partners.

Membership: The NBMAA's membership program thrived at every level with 3,387 memberships and 5,476 members on the roster as of June 30, 2010 and $433,135 in revenue going toward general operating support. The biggest gains were seen in the number of members that make contributions above and beyond their membership dues.

Programming for members abounded. Members at the Friend's, Artist's and Collector's Circle levels enjoyed quarterly previews and receptions. American Art Circle members, those donating $1,000 or more, were treated to no less than four previews and four trips to collector's homes. Forty-one members of the John Butler Talcott Society ($2,500 and up) attended the annual black tie Director's Dinner, Feb. 13, 2010.

Hundreds of members took advantage of domestic and international members trips:

Fall outing in the Berkshires including Williamstown Conservation Center and MASS MoCA, Sept. 24, 2009

The Arts in Portugal with Director Douglas Hyland, October 9-18, 2009.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art and NYC Christmas Lights Tour, Dec. 3, 2009

Tenement Museum and Guggenheim Museum, April 21, 2010

French Barge Trip: School of Barbizon, French Impressionism and Paris with Deputy Director Maura O'Shea, April 23-May 3, 2010

The Art of Croatia with Director Douglas Hyland, May 7-17, 2010

Gifts and Grants: Major grants were received from national and state sources including The Henry Luce Foundation, MetLife Foundation, and the Connecticut Commission on Culture & Tourism. We remain grateful for annual gifts in support of Museum's education programs, exhibitions and operations from American Savings Foundation, the Community Foundation of Greater New Britain, and the Greater Hartford Arts Council and for the generosity of many area corporations including Bank of America, in support of educational programming; Farmington Bank, presenting sponsor of The Art of Wine & Food; Webster Bank, presenting sponsor of the Spring Gala and children's annual art exhibition and Stanley Black & Decker, general operating support. The annual fund was supported by over 600 donors. Nearly $11,000 was raised in tribute gifts. Please see complete listing of donors.

The Fund for American Art, to raise $15 million in additional endowment, continued in a quiet phase and greatly advanced to nearly $4 million with two major bequests received from the estates of Jay Bruemmer and Martin Gotowala.

Heritage Society. A champagne brunch was held for Heritage Society members July 12, 2009. The NBMAA's Heritage Society was established in 2003, during the Museum's Centennial Year, to honor those generous individuals who have chosen to include the Museum in their estate plans either through a bequest, charitable gift annuity, trust, promised gift of art or other planned gift. Much as the NBMAA has benefited enormously from planned gifts made over the years since its very founding, so too its future will be assured through thoughtful planned gifts such as these. The group currently numbers 74 with 10 additions in FY10.

The 6th Annual Art of Wine & Food Presented by Farmington Savings Bank was held Sept. 15, 2009 and made for a very special evening. Hundreds of food and wine enthusiasts were treated to an evening of unparalleled wine, food and art. The buzz in the crowd...“one of the area’s top three events!” Celebrity chefs Mary Ann Esposito of Ciao Italia on PBS and Robert Irvine the star of Dinner Impossible on the Food Network served as honorary co-chairs and mingled with guests during the evening.

Guests enjoyed a Dine-Around with 20 of Connecticut’s finest restaurants with menu items ranging from caviar to kangaroo. New this year was the participation of FreshPoint Connecticut, promoters of Connecticut farmers and the farm to table movement which many of our chefs embrace. The wines, from all over the world, were expertly paired with the cuisine. Patrons and sponsors also had access to a very special Grand Cru tasting in a private gallery.

“The Art of Wine & Food” featured both silent and live auctions highlighting exceptional wines, fine dining experiences, custom travel packages and one-of-a-kind treasures. Eric Widing, Head of American Paintings at Christie’s served as auctioneer.

Sincere thanks go to all our wonderful sponsors, patrons, auction donors and attendees. A special thank you to event co-chairs Martin Cooper, Tom Cox and Margaret Lawson and all of their hard working event committee members and event volunteers for helping us make this evening possible. Additionally, unique high-end wine dinners were hosted in private homes by devoted Museum supporters in conjunction with the event: Halsey and Michele Cook, Martin and Cynthia Cooper, Tom and Kay Cox, Nina Hayes, Stuart and Holly Holden, Tim McLaughlin and Marian Kellner and Alvaro and Gloria Oviedo. Over $123,000 was generated, earmarked for the Museum’s family and educational programs.

10th Consecutive Gala a Success. “Best ever” was the word on the street after the tenth ART Party of the Year took place Saturday, May 1, 2010 from 6-11 p.m. Upwards of 400 arts supporters gathered for a lively, black-tie evening of bidding, dining and, new this year, dancing, all with the shared goal of raising significant funds for the New Britain Museum of American Art. And significant funds were raised indeed—$214,000 net, a record. Thanks go to Gala Co-Chairs Margaret Lawson, Susan Rathgeber and Christine Shivery, their hard working gala committee, our sponsors, table hosts, artists, donors, attendees, volunteers, Gala Coordinator Monique Aduddell and the entire NBMAA staff. It takes nine months and over 600 people to make this special evening happen. Bravo and thanks to all!

Juneteenth: Friday evening June 18, 2010, the NBMAA hosted the 10th annual Juneteenth Celebration, sponsored by American Savings Foundation. The evening featured open galleries, music, finger food and libations including the traditional Juneteenth punch. Music was provided by D.J. Stan Thorpe and Mashario Brown. The Honorary Chairman of the event was New Britain's own Michael “Chief” Peterson, a poet who merges social consciousness with mellow poetic verses and who works to turn his art into action, inspiring others to do the same. Mayor Timothy Stewart was an honored guest. An exciting element this year was the auctioning off of two quilts made during the Community Quilt Project at the NBMAA earlier in the year: the “Fun Kids Quilt” created by student artists who participated in Museum classes and the “Adult Quilt” featuring quilt squares made by local artists and one square made by Director Douglas Hyland. Our thanks to co-chairs Torrence Conaway, Paulette Fox, Georgia Porteous and their committee including members of the African-American Advisory Committee.

Marketing: The NBMAA's comprehensive marketing program included a 12-month TV/Internet campaign, cable ads, billboards in Hartford, Waterbury and New Haven on I-84 and I-95, getaway guide ads distributed throughout the state and into Westchester County, NY, print ads, calendar listings, the NBMAA website, eblasts, newsletter and calendar mailings (print and electronic). Press releases were sent to over 100 sources and generated feature articles in local and regional newspapers and magazines. Grants totaling over $123,000 from the CT Commission on Culture & Tourism helped support the TV, billboard and getaway guide campaigns in FY10.

TV/Internet included a 12-month campaign on NBC 30 (1.7m impressions/1.6m impressions) including "Weekend Today" sponsorship. In FY10 the NBMAA was featured in onair segments on Fox 61 Daytrippers and WFSB Channel 3 Better Connecticut. Internet ads are also placed with the Courant, The Advocate, and the Waterbury Republican-American.

Radio included appearances by staff on WNPR Colin McEnroe Show and the WMRD Phil Mikan Show. The wine & food event was featured in Clear Channel spots.

Print advertising is implemented through publications such as the New York Times, Connecticut Magazine, Hartford

Courant, The Advocate, Hartford Magazine, and various art and travel guides.

The NBMAA had eight cover stories and/or feature articles in various publications including Country & Abroad, Connecticut Magazine, Antiques and The Arts Weekly (2), Art New England, INK and American Art Review (2). The Nov. 2009 Connecticut Magazine article "Hyland Fling" praised the leadership of Douglas Hyland and put the spotlight on the NBMAA once again.

Visitors Services: Since the opening of the Chase Family Building the Visitor Services department has become the face of the New Britain Museum welcoming over 320,000 visitors since April of 2006. Encompassing the Front desk, Museum Shop, Online store (developed in FY10 and launched July 1, 2010), Café on the Park, private facility rentals, security and volunteers the Visitor Services department often touches thousands of visitors seven days a week. Supporting the Museum's mission to become the most welcoming museum in the country the Visitor Services staff is the ultimate welcome wagon!
